HURRICANE'S
TOLL NEARING
TOTAL OF 2000American Red Cross
Today Contributed
$5,000 To Relief.

BULLETIN.
Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The American Red Cross today contributed $5,000 to the Cuban Red Cross to aid hurricane sufferers.

The Red Cross asked that the fund be sent through the State Department for immediate transmission to the Cuban relief organization at Havana.

The donation was made after the Cuban Red Cross informed that the hurricane has swept over the province of Camaguey and part of Santa Clara, demolishing buildings, causing many deaths, leaving many citizens wounded and in need of aid. We accept your offer for assistance.

(By The Associated Press.)
Sixty-seven more deaths have been added to the total of the Caribbean hurricane which took nearly two thousand lives in Cuba.

The storm struck on Tuesday night in the Cayman Islands, located about 200 miles northwest of Jamaica, killing 67, injuring many others and inflicting heavy property damage. Word of this new disaster reached Kingston, Jamaica, only today.

Storm deaths approached the 2,000 mark today, most of them in Cuba, as the hurricane that swept the West Indies for 10 days moved northeastward, 500 miles off the Atlantic seaboard.

Today the disturbance was nearly 200 miles southwest of Bermuda, off Cape Cod, N. E., apparently with nothing in its path except open sea. Its force was still considered dangerous to shipping.

Blew 130 Miles An Hour
Cuba, with more than 1700 dead, Jamaica, the Bahamas, to a lesser extent; Grand Cayman, Cayman Brack; and Caribbean shipping were damaged by the winds and tidal waves. The wind reached a velocity of 130 miles an hour in Cuba.

Two vessels were wrecked by the storm. The American schooner, Abundance was lost off Jamaica last Sunday, but its crew was saved. The steamship Balboa was wrecked on the reefs of Jamaica, presumably its crew also was saved.

The storm appeared off the Virgin Islands, Nov. 2, damaged the coast of Colombia, South America, on its southern excursion, then doubled northward.

DEVASTATED ISLANDS
Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Sixty-seven persons are known to have been killed and more than 100 seriously injured when the hurricane which inflicted heavy damage in Cuba struck the Cayman Islands and the Virgin Islands of the Caribbean.

These estimates of the casualties were reported today by the island commissioner as soon as communication facilities with Kingston were restored.

The hurricane struck the two islands on Tuesday night with a wind which at times blew a hundred miles an hour or more.

All the dwellings on Cayman Brack and Little Cayman were destroyed.

The government here immediately sent help and prepared to ship building materials, food and medical supplies.

TOLL NEARLY 2,000
Camaguey, Cuba, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Central Cuba's hurricane dead was near the 2,000 mark today as military and governmental authorities took hold of the problem of relief and rehabilitation for thousands of homeless and destitute.

But it was not necessary to figure on the Caribbean coast town of Santa Cruz del Sur in these plans, for the tidal wave that followed the storm left it unfit for habitation. It may never be rebuilt on the sandy shore.

The town presented a picture of pitiful desolation today. It was nothing but a shambles, where 3,500 persons had lived, were only soldiers, sanitary workers, and a few city officials.

Here and there rose the smoke of a funeral pyre since it became necessary to burn bodies. The grave diggers could not bury the dead fast enough for the sanitary safety of the few who remained on guard.

Capt. Frederico Tomeu on his arrival here said 800 bodies were buried yesterday and Thursday, but cremation was ordered when every pile of debris disclosed further dead.

The official estimates of the dead in the storm rose to 1,700 during the night, but the exact number may never be known, as many in Santa Cruz were probably carried to sea by the retreating tidal waters.

FLIER TRYING
A ROUND-TRIP
FLIGHT OF U. S.Col. Roscoe Turner Is Being Hampered By High Cross Wind

BULLETIN
Columbus, Nov. 12.—(AP)—An attempt by Colonel Roscoe Turner to establish a new trans-continental round-trip air record was abandoned this afternoon when the Colonel blew a tire in landing his monoplane at Port Columbus.

Kansas City, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Col. Roscoe Turner arrived here from Los Angeles at 10:44 A. M. Central Standard Time, today. One hour and 12 minutes behind schedule on his attempt to fly to New York and back to California in approximately 22 hours.

His plane was quickly refueled and streaked eastward for Columbus, O., at 10:50.

"I've been bothered by cross winds all the way," said Col. Turner. "This was the only comment made by the flier in his haste to refuel."

On the flight of approximately 1,450 miles from Los Angeles to Kansas City, topping the Rocky Mountains and crossing the western plains country, Col. Turner averaged around 240 miles an hour. He had hoped to push his ship at a speed of between 270 and 285 miles an hour.

TOOK OFF AT 4:34
Burbank, Calif., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Colonel Roscoe Turner, trans-continental speed pilot, took off from the United States at 4:34 A. M., CST, today in an attempt to fly from Los Angeles to New York and return, 5,044 miles, in approximately 22 hours.

Turner swung his low wing racing monoplane into a clear moonlight night for Albuquerque, where he will refuel at the municipal airport. He will stop for refueling at Kansas City, Columbus and the Floyd Bennett Field, New York. He expected to remain in New York 30 minutes.

He said he hoped to average between 270 and 285 miles an hour east and about 240 miles an hour flying west. Much of the flight westward will be at dark, his scheduled arrival time being 1:52 A. M. tomorrow.

Bootlegger Shoots
Self Out Of Trap
Beatrice, Neb., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Chester Mason, federal prohibition agent, was killed and Byron Kennedy, an undercover agent, was wounded seriously in a shooting scrape southeast of here today when a bootlegger, believed by officers to be Ted Wells, shot himself out of a trap.

DEATH CAME TO
PETER MENTEN
VERY SUDDENLYFarm Manager Stricken
While At Work In Barn Last Eve

Peter J. Menten, well known in Dixon, who for the past 13 years has managed the Mrs. Bertha Eaton farm north of Dixon on the Lowell Park road, died suddenly last evening about 5:30 in the barn at the farm. His body was found by his brother-in-law, Matt Kanzier, of Rockford, who was assisting with the chores and who had missed him.

Mr. Menten was engaged in feeding the cattle when he was stricken and slumped down in a corner of the barn. Mr. Kanzier went to the barn to milk, and did not observe his brother-in-law working about the barn, but made no immediate investigation, believing that he had gone to the field for a horse which had run out of the barn. Kanzier completed the milking task and then called for Mr. Menten. Receiving no reply, he started out of the barn and found the lifeless body slumped in the runway.

Inquest Held Today
A physician was summoned and the body was removed to the Preston mortuary where Coroner Frank M. Banker conducted an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning. The jury returning a verdict finding that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Menten had been in failing health for the past two years. He was born in Dixon township, December 13, 1866 and had lived in this locality practically all of his life. For some years he was employed as a line man by the Western Union Telegraph Co., but for the past 13 years had been farm manager for Mrs. Eaton. His wife preceded him in death several years ago. He leaves to mourn his sudden passing, the following brothers and sisters: Miss Amelia Menten of Dixon, Henry Menten of St. Augustine, Ga., Mrs. Emma Brant of this city, Mrs. Louise R. Brant of Calumet Falls, Ore., C. H. Menten of Binghamton, N. Y., and Mrs. Matt Kanzier of Rockford.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Preston chapel, Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating and with interment in Oakwood.

FOUND STOLEN PURSE
A woman's pocketbook, which was stolen from a home in the east end of the city several weeks ago, was recovered this morning and turned over to the police. An employee of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company hydro plant found the purse in a clump of bushes west of the station this morning. Letters in the purse resulted in establishing the owner's identity. A wrist watch and fountain pen were found in the purse which belonged to Mrs. Thompson of Oregon, who for a brief time, made her home in Dixon when the purse was taken.

BROTHER IS DEAD
William Sheetz, of 815 Ottawa ave., this morning received a telegram announcing the death of his brother, Elie Sheetz, 84, founder and owner of the Martha Washington Candy Co., at Washington, D. C., at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Dixon man will not be able to attend the funeral, which will be held Monday, because of his age. The deceased had visited Dixon a number of times and had friends here who will mourn his passing.

MUST HAVE HAD COUPE
"Fact is stranger than fiction," and often this saying is proven true. The other night a young man living in North Dixon started for town in his car, to call for his sisters, at store closing time, to convey them to their home. He parked the car on First street and as he was early, he chatted with friends on the street, while waiting. A friend passing behind the automobile discovered completely sitting on the bumper of the car, a fat hen, which had evidently enjoyed the ride from home, a mile or so out on N. Galena ave., refusing to be shaken off even at the bumps on the railroad track at the I. C. crossing. "Bud" was the recipient of much good natured "kidding" and took his adventurous and sight-seeing hen home again.

Federal Agents In Raids At Madison
Madison, Wis., Nov. 12.—(AP)—A squad of Federal prohibition agents raided nine Madison speakeasies last night, arrested 14 persons and seized quantities of beer, whiskey and alcohol.

The surprise raid came on the eve of the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game and many of the wet spots were being frequented by students. The students watched the proceedings and were not molested. Some of the establishments are close to the university district while others are on the outskirts of the city or a few miles beyond the limits.

Pay For Funerals
With Geese, Grain
Chicago, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Funeral costs are now being reckoned in geese, grain, hogs and even tractors.

Harry J. Billigan, Cincinnati, secretary-treasurer of the National Funeral Directors' Association, gave truth to that statement at a meeting of the association's officers here today.

The practice is prevalent in the rural districts, he said, and told of one undertaker who received cash for only one of his last 12 funerals.

But, he had added immeasurably to his barnyard stock, Billigan said.

Winter Weather Is Felt Through Dixie
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Winter shook a chilly fist in Dixie's face today, brushed it with frost and sent temperatures ranging down into the low thirties.

It was cold all over the south. Arkansas faced freezing weather and in Atlanta the mercury hovered round 32 degrees in the early morning hours while sections of northwest Florida felt blustery winds and watched for possible frost damage.

The mercury dropped to 38 at Atlanta yesterday and skated on down the scale today. The same low was recorded yesterday for Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn., had a minimum of 40.

A fair but chilly week end was forecast for most of the southern states.

Streator Is Scene
Of $100,000 Blaze
Streator, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Quantities of canned foodstuffs were burned in a $100,000 fire which swept the canning factory of the C. C. Cray Company about midnight last night.

The fire, of undetermined origin, apparently started in the packing room, and spread to two brick buildings. Elevating and labeling machinery valued at $5,000 also was ruined.

The loss was estimated by the owners of the plant, which has been operating but little during the last year.

DR. SICKELS HOME—IS ILL
Dr. E. A. Sickels, well known and popular Dixon physician and surgeon, Mrs. Sickels and Miss Alma Keister arrived home this morning after a visit to Sickels hunting lodge in northern Minnesota. Dr. Sickels, who has not been well, suffered a set-back in camp and is now critically ill at his home in Dixon.

TO NATIONAL CONTEST
The Illinois championship meat judging team of the agricultural class of the Dixon high school left this morning at 9 o'clock for Kansas City, Mo., where they will compete in the national contest which opens Monday. Their instructor, Prof. John Weiss furnished transportation for the team, who are making the trip by automobile. The Dixon team will be in competition with 35 other teams from other states in the meat judging contest which will open Monday afternoon, the prize winners to be announced at a banquet for all contestants Wednesday evening.

ROOSEVELT WILL SPEND WEEK END
NURSING A COLDWife And Physician
In Charge Of President-Elect Today

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12.—(AP)—His wife and physician have taken charge of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the next President of the United States, who was resting in bed today to cure a cold.

For the first time since he began his strenuous campaign for the presidency last July, Governor Roosevelt was resting at home with no visitors and no scheduled appointments to discuss state or national affairs. Mrs. Roosevelt, who arrived Thursday night from New York, advised him to remain in bed over the week-end.

A physician found that the President-elect had a little fever, but no infection of the throat or lung congestion.

Mr. Roosevelt hoped to be able to continue today, with his secretary at his bedside, some of the correspondence he dictated yesterday when he was not sleeping or resting. He spent part of the day reading more of the congratulatory messages that have been pouring in since his election. To some of these he dictated replies.

Turning to state affairs he dictated the commutation of four months of the sentence of Abraham Isenberg of New York City, convicted of grand larceny. Isenberg's sentence would have expired next April.

Although he had thrown off the worst effects of the cold he contracted in the closing arduous days of the presidential campaign, Mrs. Roosevelt prevailed upon him to remain in bed for the second day.

Visitors at the Mansion were asked to put off their engagements with Mr. Roosevelt to allow him a complete rest over the week-end.

The slight temperature he had yesterday had disappeared today. Mr. Roosevelt was attended yesterday by the Roosevelt physician in Albany, Dr. L. W. Gorham. The doctor had not called at the mansion during the morning today.

GEN. ELECTRIC,

Announce Proposal to Appease Government
In Its Suit

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports were current today that the General Electric and Westinghouse Electric companies, which jointly control Radio Corp. of America, were preparing a plan for submission to the U. S. Department of Justice, designed to settle the government's anti-trust suit against Radio Corp.

Officials of the companies withheld comment. It was stated in Wall Street that officers were working on details of the plan which would seek to meet the government's objection to the present tieup of the Radio Corp. with the two large electrical manufacturing companies.

The government's suit is scheduled to open on Tuesday in Wilmington, Del.

Important features of the reported plan, it was understood, would take the form of willingness of General Electric and Westinghouse to modify their present scheme for patent licensing, eliminating entirely the present exclusive right now given to Radio Corp. to utilize patents of the two electrical manufacturers. In effect, it was stated, this would place Radio Corp. on the same footing as all other radio manufacturers insofar as the patent question is concerned.

In addition, it was reported, the plan would provide for the eventual distribution of Radio Corp. stock, now held by General Electric and Westinghouse, probably over a period of two to three years.

Will Probe Voting In Eastern States

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Representative Hearstall Ragon of Arkansas, chairman of the House Campaign Fund committee, today announced that an investigation into the Delaware and eastern Pennsylvania elections Tuesday would open here November 15.

Ragon said numerous complaints had been filed with him on elections in both states, particularly at Philadelphia. Apparently, he said, considerable evidence attempting to show that votes were purchased in Philadelphia and Delaware also would be presented at the hearings.

Representative Black (D., N. Y.) headed a group of investigators who gathered the evidence, Ragon said.

CONGRESS AGAIN
IS FACE TO FACE
WITH WAR DEBTSNotes From Debtors In Hands Of United States Today

BULLETIN
Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The many and varied speculations on the contents of the British and French debt notes has caused the State Department to decide to make them public for Monday morning papers.

This decision was reached today after consultation with the British and French embassies. Simultaneous publication will be made in Europe.

Early publication was decided on to squelch reports termed misleading.

At first it seemed likely the notes would be kept secret until President Hoover's arrival in Washington.

Meantime, Secretary Stimson and his assistants as well as the British and French embassy staffs refused to answer questions as to whether an extension of the moratorium is definitely asked for or a general reconsideration of war debt settlements without a request for suspension of the payments totalling more than $123,000,000 due this country from ten European powers on December 15, 1932.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Prospects that a Congress already on record against further reduction or cancellation may again be handed the war debt problem appeared today as President Hoover, sped eastward to discuss the matter with government leaders.

Payments exceeding $123,000,000—the first since expiration of the moratorium last June—are due December 15, but already England and France have transmitted notes on the subject, Greece has failed to make a payment due last Thursday and Hungary has announced an inability to pay.

Secretary Stimson forwarded the British note to the President, who is due to arrive Tuesday. Stimson said it would be made public simultaneously in England and America. The French note was described as "in the same category."

Senator Reed (R., Pa.) meant while, said on Capitol Hill that the entire war debt problem "will be thrown into Congress" at the beginning of the December session. Reed took a prominent part in securing approval of the Hoover one-year moratorium.

Official Washington, however, expects no definite action until President Hoover has had an opportunity to canvass the situation with his cabinet and congressional leaders.

NO COLLECTIVE ACTION
Paris, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Notes dealing with payments of war debts already have been presented to the American government by France and Great Britain, and it is reported that similar communications may be expected from Italy and Belgium, but a Foreign Office official asserted this morning that France had joined in no collective action concerning the debts issue.

It was reported in London yesterday that the French government, as well as those of Italy and Belgium had been informed of the general nature of the British note to Washington at the time it was sent, but the spokesman said today that the government here is not aware of the contents of that note.

Yesterday Ambassador Paul Claudel presented the French note to Secretary of State Stimson. The spokesman declined to divulge its contents, but he said M. Claudel's action was entirely isolated from those of any other government.

Altogether foreign creditors are down for $123,000,000 in war debt payments in Washington December 15. Great Britain owes $95,550,000 and France $19,251,438, the two largest payments due. Italy owes $1,245,437 and Belgium $2,125,000, all interest, on Dec. 15.

LONDON SILENT
London, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Official silence today cloaked the British note to Washington dealing with Great Britain's $95,550,000 war debt payment due December 15, but Great Britain has advised Paris, Rome and Brussels of her action.

Meanwhile the discussion of debts that came immediately after the American election continued in the press. Today's edition of the authoritative weekly, "The Economist," suggested a general scaling down of war debts, and taking them "out of politics."

P. J. Grady Rites
Tuesday Morning

The body of P. J. Grady, former Dixonite whose death in Belle Fourche, S. D. was announced in Tuesday evening's Telegraph, will arrive in Dixon Tuesday morning, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Anna, and will be taken to the Jones funeral home where brief services will be held at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

GIRL CASHIER
OUTWITS BANK
ROBBERS TODAYAttempted Robbery
Of Hoyleton, Illinois
Bank Frustrated

Centralla, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Three bandits who attempted to hold up the State and Savings Bank of Hoyleton, fifteen miles southwest of here, today and who were surrounded by a posse three miles southwest of Hoyleton, a short time later, were reported to have escaped the dragnet, by abandoning their first automobile, for another car driven by a fourth member of the band. They were last reported to be heading north over country roads toward Carlyle.

The bandits fled from the Hoyleton bank without any loot, after Miss Corinne Beckemeyer, pretty 23-year-old assistant cashier, ran to the bank vault and turned on burglar alarm. A shot fired at the girl as she ran to the alarm button, splattered harmlessly on the bullet proof glass cage window.

"When the two bandits came into the bank armed with guns," Miss Beckemeyer said, "I knew what they were going to try to do and I knew that we had a bullet proof glass cage to protect us. As I started toward the burglar alarm one of the bandits fired but the shot struck the bullet proof glass and did not hurt anyone."

The girl described one of the men as heavy set and wearing a tan coat, while the other, she said was dressed in ordinary street clothes and was of thin build.

Centralla police said they were of the opinion that the bandits may have been the same group that held up banks at Sandoval, Highland, and other southern Illinois cities in recent weeks.

In the bank at the time of the attempted hold-up besides Miss Beckemeyer was another assistant cashier, Edwin Breuer and D. A. Rixman, one of the directors. They, however were in the back part of the bank when the bandits entered.

With President Hoover en route to Washington at Glendale, Calif., Nov. 12.—(AP)—President Hoover broke his return journey to the White House today with a speech here pledging cooperation to continue economic recovery.

Mr. Hoover declared he was returning early to Washington from his home in Palo Alto, Calif., "in special concern that the measures and instrumentalities which have been in motion on an entirely non-partisan basis shall continue to function vigorously and contribute their utmost."

In the crowd at the train was a group of friends in southern California who had asked the opportunity to greet him. He said: "I am glad of this opportunity to meet with you again as a group of loyal friends who take this means of expressing their continuing friendship. On my part, I welcome the opportunity to thank you for your comradeship in our battle together for the welfare of our country that has heartened me in many a difficult hour. And I wish to thank you even more warmly for your personal devotion, which touches me deeply and which I shall always treasure as the highest reward of public service."

"The majority of the people have decided to entrust the government to a new administration. The political campaign is over."

Asks For Unity
"I asked for unity of national action in the constructive measures which have been initiated during the past three years for care of distress to protect the nation from imminent dangers and to promote economic recovery. If we are to continue the recovery, so evidently in progress during the past few months, by overcoming the many difficulties which still confront us, we must have continued unity in constructive action all along the economic front. I shall work for that unity during the remaining four months of this administration. Furthermore, it is my duty to cooperate with our opponents in every sound measure for the restoration of prosperity."

"I am making an early return to Washington in special concern that the measures and instrumentalities which we have in motion on an entirely non-partisan basis shall continue to function vigorously and contribute their utmost. The functioning of our government is dependent upon strong two-party organization. It is only through party organization that public questions can be properly considered and determined."

Is Not Discouraged
"Republicans of the country should not be discouraged by defeat. Rather they should at once strengthen all forms of national, state, county and precinct organization for militant action. True to its great traditions, whether in the majority or the minority, the Republican party should continue to give its constructive service to the country. It will return to power."

"I desire to extend my sincere thanks to all our party workers and others who have given so freely of their time and effort in this campaign and in supporting the principles for which we stand, and for the many evidences I have received of devoted friendship. But the first consideration today of

Orange Trifle
2 tablespoons of granulated gelatin
4 tablespoons cold water
1-2 cups orange juice
4 tablespoons lemon juice
2-3 cup sugar
1-2 cup whipped cream
1 egg white beaten
Soak gelatin and water five minutes. Dissolve over hot water. Cool. Add fruit juices and sugar and stir until sugar has dissolved. Cool and allow to stiffen a little. Beat until frothy. Beat in remaining ingredients and pour into glass mold. Chill until stiff. Unmold and serve plain, with cream or pieces of the oranges.

Cocoanut Crisps
2-3 cup gail
1-2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-2 teaspoon lemon extract
2 eggs
3-4 cups flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
2-3 cup cocoanut
1-8 teaspoon salt
Cream fat and sugar. Add cream and beat well. Add rest of ingredients and chill dough. Break off bits of dough and flatten down three inches apart on greased baking pans. Bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

The leftover apples cut from the whole apples, used for salad, can be made into apple sauce.

To soften cocoanut, soak for 5 minutes in milk to cover. Drain and the cocoanut can be used as desired.

Annual H. S. Visiting Day, Wednesday

The regular visiting day for parents at the High School is to be on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 16th. At this time all the parents, relatives, and friends of high school students are cordially invited to attend the fifth, sixth and seventh period classes, where they may observe the pupils' work and the class room procedure, and meet the teachers.

Interesting exhibits will also be on display in the manual training and biology departments, and in rooms 112 and 113 where the Latin classes are showing a collection of posters and notebooks. Many of the other class rooms will also have bulletin board displays. Student guides will direct the visitors.

All parents and friends are urged to attend and avail themselves of this opportunity of coming into closer touch with the school life.

Black and White, Hardy Perennial

Two cows are smarter than one, particularly if one is on the white satin blouse and the other is a white ermine collar on a chic black suit. The suit is one of the important black materials that is very dull and very soft. A rabbit's ear hat and black suede pumps, with dull copper buttons, are appropriate accessories.

Ill. League Women Voters Radio Program Published

Announcement of its November radio program by the Illinois League of Women Voters shows concentration on topics of public welfare. "This is in line," says Mrs. Forest Ray Moulton of Chicago, the League's Radio Chairman, "with the nation-wide interest in social problems, many of which have been intensified by the difficulties arising from the depression."

The program is as follows:
WMAQ (670) Chicago Daily News Tuesday afternoon 4:00 P. M.
Nov. 15—The Children's Bureau.
Dr. S. P. Breckinridge.
Nov. 22—The League's Program on Social Hygiene, Dr. Rachelle S. Yaros.
Nov. 29—Child Welfare in Illinois, Henry P. Chandler.
Dec. 6—Women in Industry, Mrs. R. C. Jacobson.

Coordinating its emphasis with the radio program, the November number of the League's publication, The Illinois Voter, out today, carries a leading article by Miss Edith Abbott, Dean of the School of Social Service Administration of the University of Chicago, on "Women and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

Miss Abbott begins her article by saying: "Women now have a very special interest in the work of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation since the Federal fund of $300,000,000 granted by Congress for relief, is administered by it." She then continues with a vivid and stirring account of some of the difficulties and problems surrounding relief work, and the responsibility toward it of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Another article in the same issue of the Illinois Voter summarizes in further detail the provisions of the Emergency Relief Act under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was established.

D. U. V. Honored Armistice Day In Interesting Program

The Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, 1861 to 1865, held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon in the G. A. R. hall.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Lucy Eastman, the president, at 2 o'clock with a good attendance of officers and members responding to roll call.

Mrs. N. Coakley, presiding at the piano played the National Anthem while the Color Bearers and patriotic instructor unfurled their flags. The reports of several committees were given. The minutes of the last meeting was read and approved.

Mrs. Ethel Watson, chairman of the Relief Committee, announced that there would be an all day day meeting at her home, Wednesday, November 16th. The day will be spent in sewing for the relief work. A basket dinner will be served at noon.

The relief committee reports distributing clothing to the amount of $30.

The next regular meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 23rd, at 2:30 P. M. At this meeting officers will be nominated for 1933.

Under the good of the order an Armistice Program was given as follows:

Poem read by Mrs. Lucy Eastman, entitled, "Soldiers."
"They kept their trust gallantly. On fading battle-fields.
They knew a courage born of pain. A strength that never yields.

And as their broken ranks come by
We raise our prayers again—
That we may find the shining Grail
That led the marching men.

That we may raise the flag as high as those whose hearts are proud
When they went out to fight for truth—
Don't let us walk, low-browed.
Ashamed because we have not kept
The pledge which brave hearts made.
Help us to conquer wrongs, dear God,
And keep us unafraid."

Reading by Mrs. Zelpha Cinnamon, "For France."

This story happened in a hamlet in France, in the late fall of 1916. The father and the two elder sons had been killed in action. Pierre, the youngest son, was left at home with his blind mother. In a very short time he, too, was called to serve with the army of France.

Reading "The Americans Come," given by Mrs. Cinnamon.

A playlet, "Living the War Over in Song and Story."

Characters in the play, Marcia Rice, pianist; Marion Reese, vocalist; Dorothy McWethy, reader; John Swaine, Boy Scout.

A playlet, "Bed Time Stories."

The characters in the play were Mesdames, Raffenberg, Cinnamon, McWethy, and Miss Dyer.

After the program a silver tea was served.

Home Talent Production Unusual Hit: Repeats Tonight Harmon

With many years of experience in coaching plays in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, drawing audiences as high as a thousand, Prof. G. C. Lehman staged his master-piece production "Footsteps," at the Harmon High school auditorium last night.

So real was the howling of the wind, the rattling of the shutters, the scenes and shrieks of murder that some of the grown up ladies found it impossible to sleep after seeing the play. Women also were afraid to stay in the house without their husbands.

From the very start the cast was extremely faithful for rehearsal and from the beginning Mrs. Atterbury, Lenore Swab showed unusual courage to meet death in a semi-dark room by a smoldering fire place. Her husband, Homer Lund, also from the first practice displayed such strong powers of the villain that the director who has played many villain parts saw the promise of an unusual talent.

Andrew, Walter Behrendt, who never was afraid of the sarcasm of the director and delayed in every practice was one hundred per cent perfect last night and was able to show reluctance to such an extent that he brought the house down with laughter. He can be termed as one of the stars. Sarah, Eva Swab, was proclaimed by experienced directors in the audience as "the outstanding star of the cast." Edward, Robert Parkner, in love with his brother's wife played his part to perfection and won the sympathy of the audience for an illegal love affair with Helen, Mary Whitmore. Poster, Everett Behrendt kept the audience in unsuspected mystery until in a drunken daze, he told the plot. Mrs. Bannister, Marian Schwartz made her demand to

CHIC PERCHES ON WIDE SHOULDERS

Draped Sleeves, Feathers and Puffs of Fur Capture Style for the New Formal Gowns

(From Kiviette, New York)
By JOAN SAVOY
NEA Service Writer

Wide shoulders bear the burden of chic on your new winter evening gowns.

Some have original draped sleeves that leave your upper arm bare and swing gracefully out to make wide under-arm sleeves. Others sprout feathers or have puffs of fur or are cut wide across the front to cover your shoulders and leave your back bare.

Black evening gowns do daring things with wide shoulders this year and get away with it in handsome manner.

Since a black gown usually is the best bet for formal occasions, the more distinctive yours is, the better chance you have for chic. If it is some original combination of black and white, so much the better.

Very unusual and utterly ravishing in its effect is this sheath-like luscious black transparent velvet with something altogether new in its neck and shoulder treatment.

Its body portion fits like the paper on the wall, with great flare to its long skirt from just above the knees.

The white touch is the master stroke, great bands of white fox that exaggerate the shoulder width, high-lighting your slender waistline and slinky hips.

These shoulder leis outline a fairly high V front and let the back stand on its own merits!

Three great roses of crystal twinkle at the back. Two fasten the belt, which really is an extension of the V-necked bodice that girdles the waistline, meeting at the center back. The third crystal rose fastens two narrow black shoulder straps. This ingenious device breaks up what might be too great an expanse of back and at the same time serves to hold the white fox shoulder leis in place.

threatening that some suspected her as the murdered. Mr. Jink, Alvin Behrendt, found himself unable to compete with the loud-speaker, Sarah, Dr. Rogers, Frank Whitmore, the corners right hand was so closely connected with the Coroner that he was assigned some of the Sheriff's duties. Coroner Brown, Dan Craig, was an full inquest to find the guilty party who killed Mrs. Atterbury, and William.

Another very clever role was played by Helen, Mary Whitmore, when she really laid the foundations for solving the mystery in her pleading questions. Much credit for electrical work is due to Wayne Whitmore, who recently perfected a broadcasting station. The stage setting and men's make-up was planned by Anna Swab and Esther Lehman. Music was furnished before and after the play by Jensen and Horton. "The Dixon Harmony Boys."

Special dance numbers by Alice Small and vocal solos by Elva Kugler were also enjoyed.

The play will be repeated tonight at 8 o'clock. Do not miss it!

Woman Prosecuting Attorney in Missouri

Trenton, Mo., Nov. 12—(AP)—A former country school teacher is the first woman to be elected a prosecuting attorney in Missouri. Miss Anes Mae Wilson of Trenton ton bucked the tide of Democratic votes last Tuesday and won as the Republican nominee in Grundy county.

She ran on a "bone dry" platform, with the main plank pledging strict law enforcement.

Formerly a school teacher at Orrick, Mo., Miss Wilson studied law and began practicing with a Trenton law firm in 1928. Later she served as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney and then established her own office.

W.C.T.U. Meeting Held on Wednesday With Mrs. C. E. Hill

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. E. Hill, 416 Brinton avenue.

The meeting opened at 2:30 o'clock, the president Miss Callie B. Morgan presiding, with Mrs. Mary E. Strock as pianist.

Opening number—Song, chorus—"He Saves, He Keeps, He Satisfies," followed by salute to the flag.

Another song: "Christ for the World We Sing," was sung.

A collection was taken.

Miss Flora Seals, secretary, gave her report.

Mrs. Etta Fry, treasurer, gave her report, both were approved.

Mrs. Alice Missman gave her report of sending four copies of "The Young Crusader" to our schools and one copy of the Union Signal to our president. Mrs. Mary Strock gave an interesting report of the meeting held in Rock Falls when Mrs. Ferguson, State President, gave a splendid address, and which was attended by a number of the Dixon members. A letter read from the McFarlane home at Rockford of interest to our members.

Mrs. J. L. Frost led the devotions, reading from Exodus and explaining very interestingly three portions, "Come over into the Mount," "Song—'Carry On.'"

Mrs. C. E. Hill gave a very interesting report of the State Convention held in Peoria in October. Members must work to retain and hold fast to that which we have. "Drinkers not dry, make the boot-leggers." A poster, "Send the Light," was very impressive. It was the 58th annual state convention, the first one was held in 1874. There are 19 new Unions organized in the state. Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president, gave an interesting address at the convention on our work for the coming year. Mrs. Hill's report was very instructive and helpful to those who heard it.

The Union was very fortunate in having Mrs. Alma Lewis of Amboy, our new county president, present at this meeting. She is bringing to each Union of the county a splendid message and report of the convention held in Peoria. A message of courage and inspiration with the main thought for all: "Keep on working and praying." Prayer, faith and hope are our key words and a more devoted service to our Heavenly Father.

Misses Jane and Jean Ford gave a very pleasing duet, "For Old Glory," accompanied on the piano by Miss Elizabeth Ford, which was very much enjoyed.

The members were glad to have as a guest, Mrs. Flora Timothy of Franklin Grove Union, now a resident of Dixon for the winter.

A pleasant social hour followed, the hostess and president serving delicious refreshments.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Ella Starks in December.

Average Man's Ideas on Fashions Are Just Like This!

By RUTH COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Chicago, Nov. 12—(AP)—Hands that designed some of Chicago's skyscrapers took a fling at feminine fashion designing and the startling results were shown to the world today.

The ideas of seven architects of what women will wear in 1933 included:

A street frock with only one sleeve, a satin afternoon dress with an oil cloth jacket, and an evening gown with elbow length mitts.

The architects are responsible for much of the building designs at a Century of Progress, Chicago's second world's fair, which opens next year.

Tall slim figures are the "sides" on which the architects envisioned their creations. In the length the costumes are extra long, some of the evening gowns ending in trains. The waist-line when not ignored, was lower than this season's.

A straight skin-tight satin afternoon frock half of the skirt being white and half yellow attracted attention. Down each side of the

Mrs. Roosevelt Sees No Trouble

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 12—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the next First Lady of the Land, intends to be "just a private citizen" who drives her town automobile when she likes and who will bar politics from her life for the next four years.

Furthermore, she foresees no social complications at Washington such as arose out of the incident of the social ranking of Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of Vice-President Curtis.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked in an interview if she thought a parallel to the Gann incident might arise in social Washington under the Democratic administration.

Mrs. Roosevelt laughed, then said: "Really, I don't think the Democrats are troubled that way."

Mrs. Roosevelt exploded what she apparently considered one of the legends concerning herself—that she knew all the turns and corners of the White House.

"I am not at all familiar with the White House," she said in answer to a suggestion that she might have planned changes in the arrangement of the President's home. "I haven't been there since I called on Mrs. Woodrow Wilson."

SOCIETY'S CHANCE TO END SLUMS.

The action of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in granting a loan of just less than $4,000,000 to a New York concern for a model housing project in the Bronx ought to be the first step in a radically new type of construction scheme for America.

It is not important solely because the job will give work to a lot of unemployed men in a time of depression, or because it will furnish decent homes to 1200 families which at present are living in slums—although those two items are very weighty.

What makes it almost unique in a profit seeking world is the fact that it marks the beginning of a large-scale housing job in which the needs of society as a whole definitely stand ahead of the builders' desire for profits.

No stockholder in the corporation which is backing the job can receive more than the amount of his original investment plus 6 per cent cumulative interest, and no mortgage can receive more than 5 per cent. Any surplus earnings in excess of these sums will revert to the state.

That represents a fair profit, of course. But it is perfectly clear that the welfare of the community is the first consideration in this scheme, and that the backers are not so much moved by a desire to make money as by a desire to render a genuine service to their fellow citizens.

So far, this Bronx job stands alone. But if the people of America once recognize the opportunity that is open, many similar projects will be undertaken in all parts of the country.

The slum is about the costliest luxury the modern American city supports. It depresses other property values, it helps to lower the city's tax income and it provides a breeding ground for bad citizenship. Fine characters do come out of our slums, of course—but they come out against heavy odds. The child born in the slums is born, as they say, with two strikes on him.

We have, now, a chance to combine public and private initiative to wipe out our slums. This job in the Bronx is a good sample of the sort of thing that can be done if we make up our minds to it. Are we going to make the most of our opportunity?

RIOTS, BUT NO KILLINGS.

The more one reads about the unemployment riots in London, the more one is compelled to admit that the English do know how to run a police force.

Few police departments ever were put to a more severe test than the London bobbies got during these riots. They had to stand fast and use their clubs for all they were worth, and they did so very effectively. And while the spectacle of a thousand cops clubbing frantic fellow citizens is not pleasant, the fact that the officers did their job without using any weapons more dangerous than nightsticks is worth remembering.

A similar riot in an American city—or for that matter, in the ordinary European city—would have brought out riot guns, pistols, tear gas bombs, cavalry and platoons of infantry. Unless all hands were extremely lucky, a good many lives would have been lost. The London police seem to have the knack of doing a disagreeable job with firmness but without brutality.

EASING A HARD TRAIL.

The 14-year-old son of the minister of mines in Manitoba was picked up by the police in an Ohio town the other day after he had bummed his way from Winnipeg on what he had planned as an informal tour of the world; and now that the youngster is safe at home again it is rather interesting to ponder over his history of his wanderings.

He set out, as a myriad of other youngsters with restless feet have done, to look for adventure and see what was to be seen; and although he had only a dollar in cash, he made the trip from Manitoba to Ohio without suffering unduly either from hunger, cold or weariness.

Truck drivers gave him all the rides he wanted, haystacks provided sleeping places and good-natured restaurant owners furnished his meals. The way of a wandering boy, these days, seems to be a good deal easier than it used to be—and he can wander a good deal faster.

Our object at Geneva will not be to take some dramatic step which would focus attention on our initiative or leadership. Our aim will be not to have a separate policy of our own, but to unite with the other powers in finding a single policy which might fairly be described as the policy of the League as a whole.—Viscount Hailsham, Britain's Secretary of State for War.

Oh, the public delights to criticize.—Col. Frederick S. Greene, N. Y. Public Works superintendent, during investigation into his department expenses.

I am in darkness and I know nothing. I am waiting developments.—Samuel Insull, former utilities czar, just before his formal arrest in Athens.

So they may bring out their triumphal arches and order their bands.—George Bernard Shaw, admitting he expects to visit the United States.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THIS PICTURE)

The Tynmites had played down so much they flopped down on the ground to take a little rest and Scotty said, "Let's all sleep a bit."

The farmer heard him and he said, "Why don't you use my barn instead? Flop in the hay and when you wake up you'll feel fit." All of the bunch agreed that this was something that they wouldn't miss. They ran into the barn and soon were deep in slumberland.

When the old farmer heard them snore, into a nearby field he tore. He smiled and to himself said, "Gee, I have a plan that is grand."

"I will pour oil on my old scarecrow. He will come to life and then I know that I can put him up to pranks to tease the Tynmites."

When just a few small drops were spread, the funny scarecrow yawned and said, "Oh, thank you! Now I'll look around a while and see the sights."

The farmer answered, "Pine!"

WEST BROOKLYN

By Henry Gehant

West Brooklyn — Ralph Smith and George Smith returned home the first part of the week from Eagle Grove, Iowa, where they visited a few days at the home of a brother. Miss Ethel Smith, who motored out with them remained for a longer stay. They report the ground being covered with nine inches of snow out there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Halmaier motored to Amboy on Tuesday where he is having dental work done. Rev. Father Bey of Oak Park was here the latter part of the week visiting with friends and old acquaintances. Father Bey was pastor at Sublette many years ago when the local parish was a mission and he served it every other Sunday.

Miss Ruth Hasselberg was up from Shaws on Saturday calling on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Koehler motored to Mendota on Saturday shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Haas and son were here from Peru on Thursday and spent the day at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Graf.

Frank Maier, Arthur Ziebart, Amel Prybe and Henry Gehant motored to LaSalle last Friday where they heard President Hoover in person.

CONQUERING PARASITES
A medical wit once observed that if all drugs were cast into the sea, mankind would not suffer, though it would prove so much the worse for fish. There is in this one more wit than wisdom.

What would the world of today be without quinine for malaria, mercury and arsenic for syphilis, opium for pain, and a dozen other drugs for a dozen other important diseases?

The economic rehabilitation of sections of some of our own states may to some degree be credited to the drug conquest of hookworm.

It is not so long ago that many so-called lazy inhabitants of these regions were discovered to be not so much lacking in character and enterprise as they were suffering from a parasite, the hookworm.

Three drugs have been found effective in combating the parasitic worms—thymol, the oil of wormseed, and carbon tetrachloride. By the use of these drugs and by the simple expedient of wearing shoes instead of going barefoot literally millions of men, women and children have been freed of their parasites and have been converted from listless, anemic individuals into normal humans.

The entamoeba histolytica, a microscopic one-celled animal about the size of a pin point, causes the disease known as amoebic dysentery. This disease occurs widely in the tropics and is found also in various parts of the United States.

The amoeba is responsible for much suffering and many deaths. Until 1912 there was no effective method for its treatment available. Then Col. Edward B. Vedder, of the United States Army Medical Service, and Prof. Leonard Rogers in India discovered that a drug called emetine, when injected into the human body, enters the circulation and destroys the amoeba without injuring the sufferer.

Improvement in this treatment was subsequently achieved by combining emetine with various compounds of arsenic.

SEES TRAGEDY IN DOWNFALL OF NAPOLEON

Most historians look on Napoleon as a wholly selfish menace from which Europe saved itself by the narrowest of margins, to its lasting benefit.

Hilaire Belloc feels that the direct opposite is true.

In his new biography, "Napoleon," Mr. Belloc says that Napoleon fought for a united Europe—which, says Mr. Belloc, would have been the greatest boon European civilization could have had. He almost reached his goal; that he failed, Mr. Belloc says, must be counted one of the world's great tragedies.

This failure, Mr. Belloc continues, was due chiefly to two errors Napoleon made. He involved himself in the Spanish adventure, which split the Grand Army in half and he made the mistake of invading Russia. But he also failed to appreciate the unifying force of Catholicism, and failed therefore, to align himself with a power that might have brought him to success.

Mr. Belloc has not followed the ordinary biographical formula. He begins his book with a rather condensed sketch of Napoleon's career and devotes the remaining chapters to describing certain of its outstanding incidents—such battles as Marengo and Austerlitz, the Italian and Russian campaigns, the return from Elba, and so on; and his book thereby gains a good deal of dramatic force.

As a vivid appraisal of one of the world's most interesting men "Napoleon" is a powerful and deeply absorbing bit of work.

THAT real boosting citizens are those that don't whine. They get over the hard parts of the road by pushing forward.

These men never know when they are licked.

They don't go crazy when they win.

Win or lose, they don't sit down; they get up and go after it.

They steam up, seize the next best bet.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Whatever else historians of the future may set down as the significant trends to develop in 1932 presidential campaign, it's a pretty safe bet that the evolution of the activity of women in politics will have large mention.

Well might the historian of the future record that the year 1932 marked the real beginning of the transition from the American woman's idea that her duty was merely to cast her ballot to that of engaging actively in the political game herself—even to seeking public office in wholesale fashion.

Exactly 101 of them were candidates in 31 states this year. And they were not aiming low, either. Three sought seats in the senate, 28 seats in the house, and two the gubernatorial chair.

MAKING POLITICAL HISTORY

The chronicler of women's part in the political show of 1932 will find plenty to interest him, however, aside from those who actually went out in quest of office.

Not the least is the entrance of Alice Roosevelt Longworth into the picture as an active campaigner. That speech of "Princess Alice" a few days before the election for the Hoover cause, and her magazine article before, made some political history.

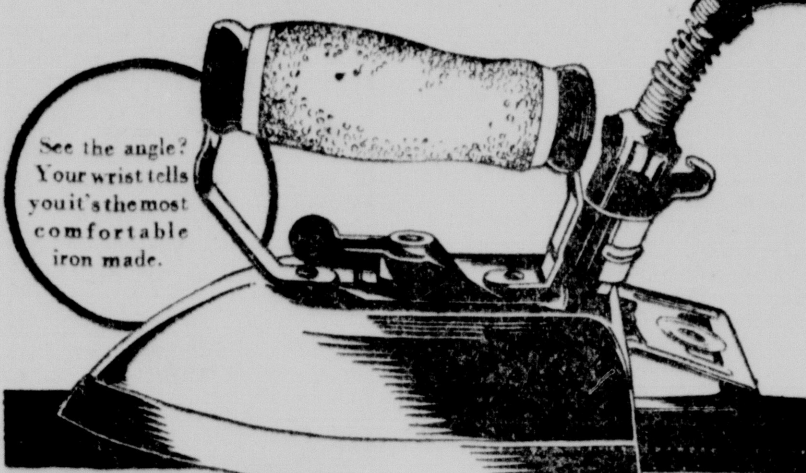

A whole chapter could be written around what happened down in Arkansas when Mrs. Hattie Caraway licked six men in a rough and tumble political campaign to enter the senate as the first woman ever elected to a full six-year term.

DOUBLE VICTORY OVER SAVANNA

WINDS UP HOME SEASON FRIDAY

FOR DIXON HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS

Heavyweights Triumph 14 to 7 While Lightweights Had Easy Time To Win By Score Of 26 To 0.

By DON HILLIKER

In the grand finale of local football for the 1932 season Dixon high school crews rolled to a double victory over Savanna here Armistice Day. The heavies' great rally in the last two quarters climaxed a successful home stand of Coach C. B. Lindell's boys. Mendota and Savanna have lost on the north side gridiron. Sterling was tied and DeKalb registered Dixon's only defeat. The Dixon B team had an easy time of it to cop 26-0. Dixon plays two games in Rock Falls next Saturday and ends the season with a single engagement Thanksgiving Day in Sterling.

The severe weather forced unfavorable conditions upon both parties but a fine brand of football was displayed. Again Dixon's rejuvenated defense was put to good use, once taking the ball on downs on its one yard line. A fumble gave Savanna the edge 7-0 in the midst of the second period. Flashing back with an overwhelming last half attack Dixon pushed home a pair of touchdowns to take the honors.

The statistics bear out the Dixon triumph:

DIXON—
First downs—5.
Passes—6.
Completed—4.
Own intercepted—0.
Yards on passes—43.
Penalties—20.
Fumbles—2.
Own fumbles recovered—0.
SAVANNA—
First downs—3.
Passes—7.
Completed—2.
Own intercepted—1.
Yards on passes—44.
Penalties—15.
Fumbles—3.
Own fumbles recovered—1.
On receipt of the opening kickoff Savanna advanced to Dixon's 42 yard line. The gods of fortune were beaming on Dixon when Leonardo's long pass was taken by Harry just outside the field of play on Dixon's 14 yard line. Of course, the pass was then incomplete but had the runner been inside it might have resulted in a touchdown. Daniels must be given credit here for his brilliant play in this period and repeating later in the game Daniels hit the passer before the ball could be uncorked to a receiver. In the first quarter the passer fumbled and Bates recovered on Savanna's 29 yard line. The opportunity thus presented was lost when Savanna braced for downs on their 23 yard line.

After Froesch's kick had gone into the end zone Dixon began the second quarter from its 20 yard line. Trying a wide end run Underwood, in for Whitebread, was thrown for a 10-yard loss. Lightner, surprising everyone by failing in the kicking department, booted a short one and the ball was down on Dixon's 11 yard line. Savanna immediately started the touchdown march which failed to materialize until later. Dixon took the ball on downs on its one yard line and Lightner received orders for a kick. Lightner, apparently enduring his first "off-day" of the year, let the oval bound away while standing behind the goal and Capt. Wittenberger fell on it for a touchdown. Shrike made the score 7-0 with a dropkick between the uprights. The main play in the remaining time before the intermission was the placing of A. Kennedy, fullback in at right tackle and a 13 yard run by Fordham which was offset by the half's ending.

Starting the third quarter Dixon took the Savanna kickoff back to Dixon's 38 yard line. Three plays later Henry faded back and passed to Strong, whom, the officials decided was illegally interrupted in going after the loss, and Dixon took the ball on Savanna's 40 yard line, the spot of the interference. Whitebread and Henry worked to a first down on the 29. Following Fordham's dropkick of five yards Henry again south, passing into Strong's arms and the lengthy end galloped 14 yards to score. Potts went wide to take Henry's pass for a 7-all count. The Dixon eleven had suddenly arisen and could not be stopped after making things all even once more. Strong's 17 yard run featured the time left in the quarter.

Leading up to the touchdown in the last stanza, Capt. Crabtree was in on Leonardo and, as the pass was thrown, Apple grabbed the passer's arm. The short peg thus resulting was gathered in by Fordham and taken back three yards to Dixon's 45 yard line. When the locals were unable to make the required ten yards Whitebread, a very able sub for Lightner in the extra point, booted and the ball should have rolled over the goal. The Savanna safety, Shrike, tried to grab it for a run-back but fumbled and kicked the ball out of bounds on his one yard line. Here, indeed was the breaking point in the victory. Savanna chose to punt out of danger but Froesch's low kick was taken by Whitebread who sped across the field for 15 yards before being halted. Whitebread went to the 8 yard line. Strong, Fordham and Strong again made it first down on the 3 yard line. Whitebread took the ball to the one yard mark from where Fordham plunged across for the winning touchdown. Fordham further inscribed his name on the hero's list by taking Henry's pass for the extra point and the finish of the day's scoring. Savanna turned on the heat with a vicious passing assault but the game was called after they had advanced from their 13 yard line to Dixon's 29 yard mark.

Compiling a hero list would be a

Kennedy hit Harry for a yard loss. On an end around play, Leonardo lost five yards. Froesch's punt was over the goal. Dixon, taking the ball on its 20 yard line, showed signs of life when it paved the way to the 33 yard line for Fordham. On a double pass Lightner made three more.

Score, Savanna 7; Dixon, 0.

Third Quarter

Lerdall for A. Kennedy. Vetrisk for J. Elliot. Savanna, with Froesch in the active role, kicked off. Fordham returned to Dixon's 30 yard line. Strong went to the back field and made six yards. Fordham punched his way for a yard. On a pass from Henry to Strong the officials called Froesch for interfering with the receiver and the toss was called complete to Savanna's 40 yard line. P. Kennedy for Mossholder. Whitebread cut back prettily to make a gain of five yards. Henry made two yards and Whitebread made it first down on Savanna's 29 yard line. Fordham tore through guard for five yards but his next attempt was stopped on the scrimmage line. Henry faded back and tossed a sixteen yard pass to Strong whose 14-yard dash to the goal put Dixon only one point away from Savanna.

Potts was wide open to take Henry's pass for the tying point. Potts kicked off to McGrath. The 19 yard return was halted on Savanna's 40 yard line. McGrath made four yards and Harry added one. Daniel continued his great afternoon by smearing Froesch for an eight yard loss. Lightner, on his return of Froesch's kick, was forced out of bounds on Dixon's 43 yard line. Strong was back and went wide for three yards; Fordham made two more after which Dixon was penalized 15 yards for illegal use of the hands. Whitebread came to Lightner's rescue by punting to Savanna's 43 yard line. Four yards were made by Elliot. Harry failed to gain and Froesch did likewise. Savanna was called for "unappropriate" language and lost 15 yards. Froesch's kick was taken by Lightner six yards to Dixon's 31 yard line. Lightner stopped on the line of scrimmage. Shifting back Strong scrambled 17 yards to Dixon's 48 yard line. Score, Dixon 7; Savanna 7.

Fourth Quarter

Fordham carried the ball outside on the 50-yard line. Elliot recovered Lightner's fumble on Dixon's 40-yard line. On the following play Froesch was given the ball. The horn sounded for a penalty and Froesch slowed down, failing to the ground. Dixon declined the penalty and the ball was given to Savanna on their 42-yard line, the spot where Froesch had dropped to the earth, such a procedure ruling the ball dead. Harry came back 5 yards. When Leonardo attempted a pass Capt. Crabtree hooked his arm and the throw was away. Fordham intercepted the deflected ball and was tackled on Dixon's 45-yard line. Lightner went to the line of scrimmage. Shrike pulled a bumer off Whitebread's punt. The ball was bouncing toward the goal and would have gone over the line, which would result in the ball being put into play from the 20-yard line. Instead Shrike tried to pick up the ball and run it back but in doing so he kicked the ball outside on Savanna's one-yard line. This was the deciding break of the game. Froesch kicked from behind the goal to Whitebread who took the ball on Savanna's 29-yard line and sprinted wide to go to the 14-yard mark. Whitey continued his march to the 8-yard line. Savanna called time out. Starting wide and cutting in Strong stopped on the 5-yard marker, one foot from the first down. Fordham failed to gain the new set of downs but Strong had better success, making it first and the goal from the 3-yard line. Whitebread pushed to the one-yard stripe followed by Fordham's drive for the second touchdown. Henry passed to Fordham for the final point. Mossholder for F. Kennedy. Bovey for Fordham. A. Kennedy for Lerdall. Bovey booted a beautiful kick-off to Elliot on the three-yard line. Bates and Crabtree stopped the run-back on the 13-yard mark. Then the almost successful passing advance began. Harry tossed to McGrath for a 33-yard gain to Savanna's 46. Reese in for McGrath. L. Whitebread for Kellar. Froesch's pass incomplete. Harry ran outside on the middle stripe. Harry's pass to Froesch was to the Dixon 29-yard line. Potts broke up the next aerial thrust to end the ball game.

Final score: Dixon 14; Savanna 7.

The secret of all those Democratic votes in New York might as well be spilled now. It wasn't Roosevelt or Al Smith who swung the boys into line under the Tammany banner. It was Stanislaus A. Zbyszko, the wrestler.

Just before the campaign ended, Tammany engaged the big Polish grappler to make a series of speeches in the vicinity of St. Mark's Place in New York City. They gave Zibzy a truck in which to ride and from which he was to make several talks to the voters.

WHERE'S STANISLAUS?

Zbyszko went so swiftly from place to place that his managers could not keep up with him. As soon as he had delivered his quota of consonants he would vanish, and the managers would dash frantically in pursuit, wondering where he would speak next and what he would say. Reporters finally caught up with him. He exclaimed: "I made a speech at Twenty-sixth street in English. Further up I made a speech in Russian. I have been making speeches all evening, and I have spoken in German, Polish, Russian, French, Italian, Spanish—even Turkish. I speak ten languages fluent, you understand."

Zbyszko was asked about his political views. He replied: "I believe in unity. I believe there would be a revolution if the Republicans stayed in power. That's what I tell the voters, anyway."

"I tell them that I am firmly convinced that the Democratic administration will restore prosperity to this magnificent country. Mr. Hoover's administration has been a failure and he has no practical plans for the future. It would be very stupid of us to re-elect him to office. The Democrats will repeal this foolish prohibition law, lift this horrible depression which is driving us mad, and bring us back to good times."

AN EXPERT VANISHER—

A reporter started to ask a question, "And how about—?" but Zbyszko was gone, on the way down the street to make another speech.

Zbyszko is a big man but he has a way of getting around. Probably he has as many ways of getting around and away as Houdini himself knew about. It is no wonder reporters and managers could not find Stanislaus.

Once in Russia during the war, Zbyszko actually had to wrestle for his life. A Russian wrestler named Aberg had accused Stanislaus of being an impostor and not a real wrestler at all. In addition information was lodged with the government to the effect that Stanislaus was a spy.

The authorities ordered him to wrestle Aberg and if he should be defeated he would be executed. The contest, held in a big hall in Petrograd, was attended by hundreds of soldiers who were friendly to Aberg.

HELP YOURSELF, BOYS—

After the two men had wrestled for nearly three hours, Zbyszko finally pinned Aberg's shoulders to the mat. Then running to his corner, Stanislaus tore open a bag containing a thousand rubles. He hurled the money into the crowd. There was a wild scramble for the money. After it was over Zbyszko was not there.

So it is not hard to understand why the Tammany managers and the reporters never could quite catch up with Zbyszko in New York. Stanislaus has a way of getting around.

Hollywood, Nov. 12—Tony is through!

The famous horse who has been ridden by Tom Mix in hundreds of pictures during the last 20 years, has appeared before the cameras for the last time. In his current film, as in future ones, Tom will ride Tony, Jr., a chestnut sorrel given to him several years ago.

Mix bought Tony 23 years ago for $12.50. Since then the two have earned several million dollars. In a sense, they have been the screen's greatest team. And Tony has been placed in the hands of other horses. Some years ago in Detroit, Tom forced the manager of a hotel to give Tony a room by digging up an old law compelling hotel managements to "give shelter to man and his beast."

The horse his hip recently during the filming of a scene for "Hidden Gold." The best specialists have been unable to do anything for the injury. So Tony has been turned out to pasture to spend the rest of his life in retirement.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Too Bad! She'd Like To Be a Good Girl!

She's one of moviedom's best bad girls, but she'd rather be good. So Wynne Gibson is demanding that her studio give her a chance to prove she can be a nice girl, too. She's been a menace to men, as pictured here, in all but one of her films. And she's getting notorious, not famous, she complains.

NEW FEDERAL PRISON OPENS AT LEWISBURG

Former Warden Joliet Prison In Charge Of New Pen

Capital Editor Was Found Dead

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 12—(AP)—

William S. Wood, City Editor of the Illinois State Journal for several years, was found dead in bed Friday by his wife. Heart disease attacked him in the night.

Wood was 56 years old, a native of Springfield, graduate of the University of Illinois and a soldier in France during the World War. He once taught in Springfield high school. He was once managing editor of the Southeast Missouri in Cape Girardeau, Mo., and formerly employed on the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and St. Louis Star.

Then the gates will close and the third center of isolation for Federal law breakers will become a reality.

The public inspection was preceded by a testimonial dinner to Warden Henry C. Hill, formerly of Joliet, Ill., and the prison personnel. Earlier, regional Federal officers, Lewisburg and Milton Service Club members, Bucknell University faculty members, and others had made a private inspection tour.

A new departure in penology, the Lewisburg prison opens as a symbol of the great advances made by the country in the treatment and housing of lawbreakers.

It has a capacity of 1,400 prisoners and its immediate effect will be to relieve the overcrowding of the Atlanta and Leavenworth penitentiaries. To it the Federal courts of ten or twelve northeastern states will send those whose infractions of the law warrant incarceration.

MINE TIPPLED BOMBED
Alpha, Ill., Nov. 11—(AP)—Owners of the Shuler coal mine here revealed today that an attempt had been made to dynamite mine property. Only the tipple was damaged by the blast last night.

The mine was closed several months ago by pickets but re-opened recently under a special guard which was removed a few days ago. Workers at the mine refused to join the newly organized Progressive Miners Union, Shuler officers said. Sixty workers were employed by the mine.

"Treachery" Cause Of Moses' Defeat
Concord, N. H., Nov. 12—(AP)—United States Senator George H. Moses, defeated for reelection on Tuesday, intends to take a very active part in the New Hampshire politics of the future.

He attributed his defeat to "concerted treachery" and said: "While I haven't had an opportunity to study the New Hampshire election returns in detail, even a cursory examination shows that in certain sections there were defections from me than cannot be explained upon any theory other than that of concerted treachery."

CHEVROLET CO. MAKES MOVE TO BOOST BUSINESS

50,000 Units Of An Improved Model To Be Produced

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12—That a radically new line of Chevrolet passenger cars would be introduced next month was made known officially here today by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The new series will be the Fifth annual Chevrolet model to employ a six cylinder engine, the first volume Chevrolet since having been announced in November, 1929. Since that time, building sixes exclusively, the company manufactured nearly 3,000,000 units.

A longer wheelbase, extensive changes in body design, and a "price which takes account of today's incomes" are promised in the 1933 car. The extended wheelbase, coupled with many improvements in the body, in performance, economy, power, safety and other factors, indicate a model much improved over the present line, and set at rest rumors current in trade circles that the new Chevrolet would be a "stripped" model designed to meet the bare needs of transportation.

From an economic standpoint, the Chevrolet announcement has national significance in that the company leads all other manufacturers in the largest industry in the world. This is one of the major contributions made by any American company this year to national betterment in terms of employment and materials consumption.

Nearly 50,000 of the new 1933 series, valued in excess of $20,000,000, will be required for dealers' announcement purposes alone, and the manufacture of at least that number is assured within the next few weeks. Mr. Knudsen said. This output will entail the consumption of more than 50,000 tons of iron and steel and the use of large quantities of the thirty other major commodities which go into the production of a new Chevrolet Six, Mr. Knudsen stated.

Aside from economic considerations, he said that Chevrolet was embarking on its 1933 program shortly, because the company felt it was good business and that satisfactory sales volume would reward any desirable product rightly priced and ably merchandised. Obsolescence of this policy during the past three years brought Chevrolet a constantly increasing percentage of total available automobile business, and in 1932 placed it in the most favorable comparative position it has ever enjoyed in its 21-year history, he pointed out.—Adv.

BANKRUPT PETITION FOR DISCHARGE.

In the Matter of Orval Miller,

Bankrupt.

To the Honorable Charles E.

Woodward, Judge of the District

Court of the United States, for the Northern District of Illinois:

Orval Miller of the Town of Reynolds, in the County of Lee and

State of Illinois, in said district, respectfully represents that on the 11th day of February, last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property and right of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

Wherefore he prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all debts prov-

able against his estate under said acts, and that such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this 26th day of September,

BUSINESS AND TRADE HOLD UP ENCOURAGINGLY

Bradstreet and Dun's Reports For Week Optimistic

New York, Nov. 12.—(AP)—General business and trade continue to hold up well the weekly mercantile review said.

"The vitality of business" said Bradstreet's "is indicated by a number of signs. The volume of production and distribution has held up in spite of the retarding effect of the election. Chain, retail and department stores report a volume of business in general below the same period of last year, but fully as good as any time during the past four months. Furthermore, the decline in retail prices, accompanied by a steady dollar volume in sales, indicates that physical volume in terms of shoes, coats, butter and eggs is better than it has been for some time. Advances from a number of scattered cities indicate progress of a more positive character."

Dun's said that "with the atmosphere now clarified, a resumption of the gradual trade expansions which has been in evidence for several months, is expected to proceed with fewer interruptions."

"The steadiness of retail business is an indication of strength and a broadening of the seasonal revival doubtless will be manifest right up to the close of the year. The encouraging recovery of commodity prices this week gives evidence that the buyers' hesitation which has obtained in some markets may be broken soon, as both wholesalers and retailers are carrying inventories substantially lighter than those of former years at this season, and supposedly inadequate to meet any long sustained demand."

In company with his teacher and class mates of Dixon he will go to Kansas City, Saturday, with the meat judging team to be present at the American Royal Live Stock Show held in that city. As winners this group now represents a good attendance and work together for our mutual benefit.

Complete Surprise

The following item will be of interest to the people of this community as Rev. Henke, the popular preacher of the St. Paul's Lutheran church at this place is concerned: On Thursday evening the church parlor of the St. John's Lutheran church in Ashton was the scene of a very happy surprise given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Henke who have completed five years of service as pastor and wife of the Ashton and Franklin Grove churches, the occasion being sponsored by the members of the two charges. Rev. and Mrs. Henke came to the church with the intention of attending choir practice but, instead found the room filled with 200 assembled guests who greeted them with a hearty welcome. The guests of honor were seated at a table with the members of the church boards of Ashton and Franklin Grove, congregations and several visiting pastors.

Clifford Schafer of Ashton, the chairman of the program committee acted as toastmaster and spoke a few words of welcome to the pastor and his wife, after which an interesting program followed interspersed with several songs by the members of the congregations. Rev. A. G. Stuehling, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church of Dixon gave a talk on the fifth book, the fifth chapter and the fifth verse of the Bible. Mrs. Ed Bank and Mrs. Henry Wendell of Franklin Grove sang together "Our Yesterdays" and responded to an encore. They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Cora Schafer of Franklin Grove. Miss Ina Klingebiel accompanied by Miss Ardyce Year played "Friends" as a trumpet solo. Rev. P. P. Burns of Paines Point church talked on "The work of the Pastor," after which two vocal solos, "Asleep in the Deep" and "Shanty in Old Shanty Town" were rendered by Herman Schafer of Franklin Grove accompanied by Miss Cora Schafer. A quartet composed of Clarence Schafer, Henry Gonnemann, Carl Degner and Clifford Schafer accompanied at the piano by Miss Hazel Boers sang an old favorite of Mrs. Henke, "Sauerkraut." Rev. E. G. Kuehne of St. Paul's related several incidents in the life of Rev. Henke after which Miss Cora Schafer gave as her contribution to the program a poem of her own composition, "Five Years."

Rev. and Mrs. Henke were presented by Miss Alice Aschenbrenner with an occasional chair and table lamp as a token of appreciation for their five years of service from the two congregations, to which Rev. Henke responded by expressing their gratitude for the gifts and appreciation of the operation of his people. The program brought to close by the appearance of the "German Band," the participants being: being Alice Aschenbrenner, Ina Klingebiel, Gertrude Schafer, George Aschenbrenner, John Cordes and William Degner. Later delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, jello, cake and coffee were served. The singing of "America" brought to a close a delightful time. The guests left with Rev. and Mrs. Henke their wishes for many more anniversaries.

The following poem, written by Miss Cora Schafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schafer, living south of this place is well worth repeating. Miss Cora is a graduate of the local school and has many friends in this community who will read her poem with interest.

"Five Years."

Five years ago, don't seem that long;

That you've been with us, in our midst;

But time flies fast, you know,

And hope you'll never go.

You've served us well the past five years.

For more we could not ask.

To help us all when 'ere you can,

You make your daily task.

You have our faithful shepherd been;

And you your flock have bidden.

To journey on the "narrow road"

That leads the way to heaven.

We're proud of you, where 'ere you go;

And want to have you know it.

If you are asked to talk or preach

We know that you can do it.

Ah, yes, I'm sure that you'll agree

You've known both joy and sorrow,

And so we hope each day these coming years

We'll bring a bright tomorrow.

We hope again five years from now

We all may here be present

To help again to celebrate

In honor of your presence.

So now to close, I want to end,

With this here wish from all these friends,

We wish you health;

We wish you joy galore!

We wish you Heaven after death

What could we wish you more?

Auxiliary Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Krehl, Nine members were present. The president, Mrs. George L. Spangler, had charge of the meeting and discussed several important business matters, which were voted upon and carried. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in sewing carpet rags and social visiting.

The payment of yearly dues may be made between November and January 1st.

The hostess served light refreshments. There being no further business the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be announced by the secretary, Mrs. Medrick Hussey.

The Melting Pot

The Methodist Aid society is planning a melting pot to be held sometime during the winter. The idea is to get as much old gold as possible to be sold to some dealer in old gold. The society will be glad if you will save your old gold for them. Anything that is gold, bridge work, teeth filling, old rings, old handles from umbrellas. If you have any gold that you will give, kindly notify the committee members, Mrs. LaPorter Meredith, Mrs. Fred Hansen or Mrs. Frank Hatch.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Hussey of this place and she has just a host of friends who will extend to her the best wishes for a happy life with her companion.

Woman's Club

The November meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Blocher. It was conducted as a conservation institute under the direction of Mrs. Mary Deutsch of Dixon, with Mrs. Romanza Greeley acting as local chairman. The roll call brought to mind several interesting topics which were discussed more fully in the written papers later. Some of the things considered were conservation of wild life, both plant and animal; if our forest resources which it is estimated are being used up four times faster than they are planted—along this line runs the thought of re-forestation of cut or burned-off areas, town forests, and memorial tree plantings which may beautify either our city streets and boulevards or our country highways; of soil fertility and its replenishing on our farms; of the restocking of our streams and rivers with fingerling fish and our forests and wood areas with wild game so that the younger generation may enjoy hunting and fishing as much as their fathers have, and of the establishment of game preserves, fish hatcheries and nurseries for this purpose; also the establishment of state and national parks in suitable areas for the recreational activities of the people. It was agreed that one afternoon period spent in the study of conservation was far too short a time to discuss it thoroughly as it is a most interesting topic. The club thanked Mrs. Deutsch heartily for conducting the institute, as well as Mrs. Greeley for assuming the discussion topics for the program.

Tricky Ensemble

High cut shoes, a low-crowned hat, gauntlet gloves and a pouch purse fashion the newest tricky ensemble, all of them in suede with lizard trim, in chic black or the season's favorite colors, wine, green or blue. The same classic lines distinguish the entire ensemble and all are neatly trimmed in the same design of a fine beading of lizard.

Democrats to Control Senate For Next 7 Years

Washington, Nov. 12.—(AP)—The Democratic triumph in Tuesday's Senatorial election was so complete that it not only gives the Democrats control for the next Congress but assures them a majority until 1937 and probably until 1939.

By winning 28 out of 34 senatorial contests, the Democrats will have 59 seats in the new Congress beginning in March, a strength which has been exceeded only twice in history.

All of these 28 newly elected Senators hold office until 1927 at least, provided death does not interrupt their service. In addition, the Democrats have 18 holdovers whose terms do not expire until that time, making 45 of the 49 necessary for a majority.

Also, of the 13 Democratic Senators who face the polls in 1935, five are from the solid south which gives the Democrats an almost certain strength of 51 until 1937.

Tuesday's one sided result also gave the Democrats a very good chance of controlling the Senate from 1937 to 1939, because 27 of their candidates just elected serve until the latter date. If they continue to hold the 16 southern seats that are contested in 1935 and 1937, they will have 43 votes, and will only need to retain six of the other 16 seats they now hold.
